

Atlas of the outskirts

City are represented with an overlay of paths, each one corresponding to a single outskirt area: their shapes depend on the values of 35 indicators sketched on the radar chart in polar coordinates.
Each indicator represent a type of facility: its value is proportional to the distance of the closest facility of that type from the selected outskirt area. The spikes indicate the least accessible services.

